Aloha!

We welcome you to the Eleventh Annual Hawaii International Conference on Social Sciences. This event offers a rare opportunity for academics and other professionals from around the world to share their broad array of perspectives. True to its primary goal, this conference provides those with cross-disciplinary interests related to social sciences to meet and interact with others inside and outside their own discipline.

The international attendees to this conference bring a variety of viewpoints shaped by different cultures, languages, geography and politics. This diversity is also captured in the Hawaii International Conference’s unique cross-disciplinary approach. The resulting interaction energizes research as well as vocation.

With Waikiki Beach, Diamond Head and the vast South Pacific as the backdrop, this venue is an important dimension of this conference. For centuries a stopping place of explorers, Hawaii has historically been enriched by the blend of ideas that have crossed our shores. The Hawaii International Conference on Social Sciences continues this tradition in the nurturing spirit of Aloha. Along with its ideal weather and striking beauty, the Hawaiian Islands provide natural elements to inspire learning and dialogue.

The 2011 conference was a great success. We hosted more than 250 participants representing more than 15 countries. Thank you for joining the 2012 Hawaii International Conference on Social Sciences!

The 2013 Hawaii International Conference on Social Sciences will be held May 29 – June 1, 2013 at the Waikiki Beach Marriott Resort & Spa in Honolulu, Hawaii. Please check our website in early July for more details!

John I. Gilderbloom

“Does Walkability Matter? Exploring the Relationship Between Walkability and Housing, Foreclosures, Crime and Health”

John I. “Hans” Gilderbloom is a Professor in the Graduate Program in Urban and Public Affairs at the University of Louisville, where he also directs the highly lauded Center for Sustainable Urban Neighborhoods (http://sun.louisville.edu). Dr. Gilderbloom is a core faculty member of the Planning Program, which recently ranked among the top 25 best programs in the country.

In an international poll of thousands of urbanists, planners and architects, Prof. Gilderbloom was ranked one of the “top 100 urban thinkers in the world.” University of Texas Press declared Gilderbloom a “legendary figure” in urban affairs. He’s won two “best teacher” awards at two different universities and has consistently receives exemplary course evaluations among fellow faculty members for his passion, humor and experiential learning pedagogy.

Since earning his Ph.D., Gilderbloom's research on urban issues has appeared in nearly 40 peer-reviewed journals, 27 chapters in edited books, 11 monographs and 31 opinion pieces in newspapers and magazines. He has written or edited five books. His book Rethinking Rental Housing, was called "The most significant piece on housing policy written in the last 40 years" by the Journal of the American Planning Association. A survey of college housing students by the National Housing Institute found Rethinking Rental Housing to be one of the most widely-chosen books in college housing courses.
In 2005 SUNY Press released Promise and Betrayal: University and the Battle for Sustainable Urban Neighborhoods, which includes an introduction by former HUD Secretary Henry Cisneros and appendix letters of support from President Bill Clinton and Harvard President Derek Bok. The 2008 book, Invisible City: Poverty, Housing and New Urbanism, earned praise from Andres Duany, William Domhoff, Donovan Rypkema, and Neal Pierce. Gilderbloom’s opinion pieces appeared in the Wall Street Journal, Washington Post, Los Angeles Times and USA Today Magazine. The New York Times ran a Sunday feature of his work in poor communities and a smaller version of his “painted lady,” a home that he has restored. He is part of Politico’s Arena roundtable involving Senator’s, Congressman, policy analysts, and academics.

In the Clinton administration he worked as a consultant on several items, including Clinton’s first State of the Union Speech. Gilderbloom advised speechwriters to emphasize Clinton programs that would lead to more homeownership opportunities and to deemphasize Gore’s hard-to-grasp “information highway language.” His work with the Clinton administration included Section 108 programs, Hope VI, and Community Outreach Partnership Programs. Gilderbloom earned recognition and honors from U.S. Senate, House of Representatives, President Clinton, American Planning Association, the Mayor of Houston, Sierra Club, the National Republican Party, a Harvard Innovations in Government program, and the American Institute for Architects. Gilderbloom is writing two new books: Ideal City: Blueprint for a Sustainable Nation and Kentucky’s Painted Ladies.

He has been featured in the New York Times, Atlanta Journal Constitution, Planning and various other international newspapers, including those in Japan, Netherlands, and Cuba. In 2005 Planetizen called Encyclopedia of 20th-Century Architecture one of the 10 best planning and architecture books. Gilderbloom’s contribution was a chapter on modern Cuban architecture. Dr. Gilderbloom was a key consultant in a $35 million investment by Telesis on a 550-unit City View apartment project in West Louisville. He worked with Louisville Central Development Corporation and area Churches to help design and build fifty single family “new urbanist” houses in the East Russell neighborhood—ten years later this neighborhood has the lowest foreclosure rate of any neighborhood in Louisville. More recently Dr. Gilderbloom completed a seven-year consultancy in Newport, Ky., resulting in 27 million dollars new and renovated housing and regeneration of a poor neighborhood. He now consults with officials in Covington, another northern Kentucky city, where they are building a $31 million dollar mixed use development. He now advises another developer on a larger $100 million dollar development in Indiana. All this work has led to Gilderbloom getting Business Man of the Year, Gold Medal Award and Co-Chair National Business Council—Republican National Committee in 2004.

Dr. Gilderbloom owns a modest portfolio of historic Victorian homes that have been restored using green and historic preservation principles (http://www.gilderbloom.org). Dr. Gilderbloom notes with pride that his first paid publication ($10.00!) was an article about Santana for Rolling Stone Magazine as a teenager. He is currently writing a play with Heidi Yost an accomplished actress and writer about the danger of drugs and suicide in America.
According to Ramsay Taum we are all islanders living on an island suspended in a sea of space. Join him as he explores the place based and values based principles and practices of ancient Hawaiians, their language and their beliefs in an attempt to create a more sustainable future by bridging the past and the future.

Ramsay Remigius Mahealani Taum is the founder and president of the Hawai`i based Life Enhancement Institute (LEI) of the Pacific LLC. Born and raised in Hawai`i, Ramsay attended the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Public Administration from the University of Southern California. Ramsay’s eclectic background and experience in business, government and community service makes him a valuable asset in both public and private sectors and has been instrumental in for-profit and non-profit business.

His work in promoting sustainable place based, and Hawaiian cultural stewardship principles and practices is acknowledged locally, nationally and internationally. Mentored and trained by respected kūpuna (elders), he is a practitioner and instructor of several Native Hawaiian practices including ho’oponopono (stress release and mediation), lomi haha (body alignment) and Kaihewalu Lua (Hawaiian combat/battle art). Ramsay was awarded the 2008 East West Centers Leadership Certificate Program’s Transformational Leadership in Sustainability, and in that same year was, HONOLULU and Hawai`i Business magazines’ “Who’s Keeping Hawai`i Green” Individual Educator Honoree.

A recognized cultural resource Ramsay is sought after as a keynote speaker, lecturer, trainer and facilitator. He is especially effective working with Hawai`i’s travel, leisure and retail industry where he integrates Native Hawaiian cultural values and principles into contemporary business.

Ramsay Mahealani Taum

"Island Wisdom, Global Knowledge: Raising the Blue Continent"

According to Ramsay Taum we are all islanders living on an island suspended in a sea of space. Join him as he explores the place based and values based principles and practices of ancient Hawaiians, their language and their beliefs in an attempt to create a more sustainable future by bridging the past and the future.

Ramsay Remigius Mahealani Taum is the founder and president of the Hawai‘i based Life Enhancement Institute (LEI) of the Pacific LLC. Born and raised in Hawai‘i, Ramsay attended the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Public Administration from the University of Southern California. Ramsay’s eclectic background and experience in business, government and community service makes him a valuable asset in both public and private sectors and has been instrumental in for-profit and non-profit business.

His work in promoting sustainable place based, and Hawaiian cultural stewardship principles and practices is acknowledged locally, nationally and internationally. Mentored and trained by respected kūpuna (elders), he is a practitioner and instructor of several Native Hawaiian practices including ho‘oponopono (stress release and mediation), lomi haha (body alignment) and Kaihewalu Lua (Hawaiian combat/battle art). Ramsay was awarded the 2008 East West Centers Leadership Certificate Program’s Transformational Leadership in Sustainability, and in that same year was, HONOLULU and Hawai‘i Business magazines’ “Who’s Keeping Hawai‘i Green” Individual Educator Honoree.

A recognized cultural resource Ramsay is sought after as a keynote speaker, lecturer, trainer and facilitator. He is especially effective working with Hawai‘i’s travel, leisure and retail industry where he integrates Native Hawaiian cultural values and principles into contemporary business.
